The image shows a screenshot of the Windows Live 'Create your Windows Live ID' form. The form is titled 'Create your Windows Live ID' and includes a sub-header 'A great variety of Windows Live services and other plans you can use all throughout the Internet.' Below this, there are several sections for user information: 'Use your e-mail address' with a radio button for 'Already using Hotmail, Messenger or Skype? Sign in instead', a text field for the e-mail address, and a checkbox for 'Use my e-mail address as my Windows Live ID'. The 'Create a password' section includes a text field for the password, a 'Repeat password' field, and a 'Confirm password' field. Below this are fields for 'First name', 'Last name', 'Country/region' (with a dropdown menu), 'Date of birth' (with a dropdown menu), and 'Gender' (with a dropdown menu). There is also a 'Mobile phone' field and a 'Date of creation' field. At the bottom, there is a checkbox for 'Send me e-mail with promotional offers, and I agree to receive them from Microsoft and other partners who use my e-mail address.' and a 'Sign up' button.

1. Make a e-mail address that is suitable for you and one that you will remember. Try to keep it short.

2. Create a password. Just like the e-mail address, make sure its a suitable one and one you can remember, and has nothing to do with your e-mail address.

3. Retype yuor password. This is to make sure that you have entered that password you want.

4 and 5. Enter your First and Last name. You dont have to, but if you want your friends to find you, you may want to put your real name. It is not necessary to.

6. Select the Country or region where you live.

7. Then select the State or Terrioty that you live in.

8. Then enter you postal code. If you don not know what it is, you can google it.

9. Select your gender

10. Type in the year you were born in.

11. You muct type in the code of random letters and numbers that you see into the box below. If you can not see it or understand what it says, you can pick a new one but clicking the "new" button.

12. If you want to recieve e-mails and news about hotmail, click the box. If you wish not to, then
