Written by Administrator

When making changes to SQL data tables in SQL Server 2008 you may have come accross the error "The changes you have made require the following tables to be dropped and re-created".

This sometime happens when you create calculated fields. To fix the error do the following changes.

1. Login to the SQL Server Management studio

2. Goto Tools > Options

3. The window Options click on Designers

4. Untick "Prevent saving changes that require table re-creation